Heidelberg | Endless romance...

It was a summer evening, just twenty I had seen, when I kissed ruby lips and hair of golden sheen. The night was blue and blissful, the Neckar flowed pristine, it was then I knew, it was then I knew, what all to me did mean: I lost my heart in Heidelberg... These are the words of the famous Heidelberg song written by Friedrich Vesely in 1925. And it is still true. The city of Heidelberg is a city of almost magical attraction for all – not just lovers. The small, twisted alleys of the old town, the romantic ruins of the castle, the street cafés and students' pubs – if you study with us in Heidelberg, you will learn to speak the German language and to enjoy life in Germany. And you will loose your heart for Heidelberg – that's all inclusive!

The castle ruins, the many mansions, churches and town houses: Everywhere around town you'll find evidence of the city's splendid and magnificent past. However, despite its long tradition, the Heidelberg of today is a young and cosmopolitan city with more than 4 million visitors from all over the world every year! But Heidelberg doesn't owe its young spirit to the tourists... Heidelberg is such a young city thanks to the more than 30.000 students who study at Germany's oldest university. They make living in this city so refreshing. Everywhere you'll meet the students of this world-famous university, however, if one of them is telling you proudly of the 600 years of university tradition, then you'll feel that history is still very much alive here...

The Campus

Heidelberg is a perfect place for studying the German language – especially in the summertime, because if you got only time to stay abroad during your summer vacation, everything you do should be perfect: Instruction, accommodation – and the weather! Of course, even in Heidelberg the sky isn't blue every day,
